"CRAWL AWAY THE ORDER"

POLICE TOLD TO GET DOWN AND CRAWL FROM THE SCENE OF TROUBLE DURING THE ROW AT WAIPAHU—LIEUTENANT LUAIHIWA TELLS HOW HE CARRIED OUT HIS OWN ORDER—

The alleged perjury of Ah On at the Waipahu inquest does not appear to be the only false swearing, as shown by the record of testimony in the case. Ah On positively identified Deputy Sheriff Fernandez on the spot as the man whom he had seen, on horseback, shooting at the time of the row. As other testimony was clear to the effect that Fernandez was not on horseback and did not do the shooting, Ah On will have to answer for perjury. There was an extraordinary divergence of statements as to the number of shots fired, ranging from six to between thirty and forty.

Lieutenant Luaihiwa furnished some amusing testimony as to the actions at the time of the shooting. Luaihiwa said that he called to the men to "crawl away" and then proceeded to do so. He bent down before the coroner's jury almost going on hands and knees in the court room and described how he crawled away to hide and wait for a chance to get away.

"The only order that was given was the one that you gave, to crawl away!"

asked Stanley. The witness replied in the affirmative.

"Was that order obeyed?" asked Stanley.

"Yes," was the reply.

Luaihiwa said he fired three shots in the air, because he saw Head Luna, Worthington shoot. Otherwise he would not have fired. His gun was knocked out of his hands and then he gave the order to crawl. The Chinese and most of the police agreed that there was no fighting. "I was in the thick of the shooting and saw no fighting," was the statement of Officer John Leal.

The arrested Chinese all testified that they had no guns and that as far as they knew there were no guns in their camp.

"There might have been guns without your knowing it?" asked the deputy sheriff of the first witnesses, and the reply was "Yes." Stanley followed this up with questions as to how long the witnesses had been in the camp and whether they had even seen such weapons there. Rawlins at first ruled out such questions, but later put similar questions himself, and the witnesses replied that they had never seen any guns in the camp.

NO MORE NUMBERED BALLOTS

SECRETARY ATKINSON SAYS THE COUNTY ELECTION BALLOTS WILL BE WITHOUT ANY NUMBERS ON THEM—WILL FOLLOW THE STRICT LETTER OF THE LAW IN THE COMING ELECTION.

"NO," said Secretary Atkinson this morning, when asked if there were to be numbers on the ballots in the coming county election. "You can quote me as emphatically as you want as saying there will not be any numbers on the ballots. The election law will be followed to the letter in every respect and that is all there is about it." This may mean a good deal of confusion and misunderstanding at the polls. The law does not provide for the various instructions issued for the benefit of precinct officers and voters last time, any more than it provides for numbers, and it is predicted that there will be numerous mistakes among the ignorant voters. It is also claimed that the lack of numbers on the ballots opens the door for fraudulent use of fake ballots, but in view of the contest begun in the courts over the numbering of ballots last time, there will be no more numbering until the law is changed.

BALLANTYNE ON THE STAND

TESTIFIES IN THE RAPID TRANSIT CASE BEFORE JUDGE CHARLES S. DOLE.

When the hearing of the Rapid Transit case was resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon before Judge C. S. Dole, Superintendent Pratt was put on the stand by the street car company.

Superintendent Pratt testified that the car in question was equipped with appliances to give it a maximum speed of 15 miles an hour. It would be impossible for a car with the equipment this car had to attain a speed of 19 miles an hour as it was testified by the Territory's witnesses it had done. The witness explained the construction of the electrical equipment to show the impossibility of getting more than the maximum speed out of it.

Attorney General Andrews sought by his cross examination to show that the witness had never made any practical experiments to test these statements; but that he took them merely from the trade statements of concerns manufacturing such electrical appliances. Pratt admitted that he had never run a car as fast as eighteen miles an hour.

Manager Ballantyne was then put on the stand, and explained the operation of the system, the arrangement of schedules, the rules for making up time in the twelve-mile limits and not in the eight-mile limits.

DEMOSTHENES.

HIGH DEATH RATE IN KONA DISTRICT

ATTORNEY CASTLE RETURNED THIS MORNING WITH NEWS OF SERIOUS SICKNESS.

W. L. Castle a young attorney of Castle and Whittington, who has been on Hawaii for the past week on business connected with Mr. Castle's sugar interests in Kona, returned from Hawaii this morning by the steamer Mauna Loa. While on Hawaii he visited Kaapuna the district where there has been so much sickness among the natives.

According to the statements of G. W. McDougall to Castle the mortality among the natives during the past two months has been shocking. The average of deaths having been from 1 to 2 a week. Bad water Castle says, was evidently the cause of the sickness. Typhoid is evidently the type of sickness. Many natives have been ill.

Castle conferred with Secretary Atkinson this morning regarding matters in Kona and acquainted the Secretary with conditions in that section of the island. The authorities are awaiting advices from Hawaii before sending any relief to the affected section.

His Death Due To His Own Disobedience

JUDGE DOLE DECIDES THE MAKALILUI LIBEL FOR $50,000 AGAINST THE BARK OLYMPIC COMPANY—MAN KILLED BY FALL LOST HIS LIFE THROUGH HIS OWN DISOBEDIENCE AND NEGLIGENCE.

Judge Dole this afternoon gave a decision in the case of Mary P. K. Makalili vs. the bark Olympic Company. A libel for $50,000 damages on account of the death of the libellant's husband on board the bark Olympic on July 11, 1904. The suit was brought on the ground that the "strongback", which broke and allowed the deceased to fall to his death, was rotten and defective. Judge Dole holds that the evidence shows that the defendant should not have used it as he did and that his death was due to his own negligence entirely. The decision says: "The premises were safe for the work of loading the sugar as it should have been carried on, and as the ship's officers endeavored to have it carried on. The strongback, the breaking of which caused the accident, was sufficient for the purposes for which it was intended. It was not intended to support a strain of landing sugar in slings on the moveable hatches resting upon it. The accident which resulted in the death of the deceased was due to the negligence, and willful disobedience of deceased and his associates of the orders of the ship's officers. The accident would not have occurred but for such negligence and willful disobedience."

The libel is dismissed with costs.

THE EXTRA SESSION

The extra session of the legislature is likely to be called about May 10. Governor Carter has had consultations with some of the members as to their wishes in the matter and has asked for expressions of opinion. Many of the members from other islands would like to have a brief interval between the regular and extra sessions, in order that they may go home for a visit. The present session will expire on April 26 and a couple of weeks interval will make the calling of the extra session about the tenth of next month.
